

A Signature Presentation:

Six Leadership and Organizational Trends You Don't Want to Ignore

WHY?

These trends are being created as we have moved from the Industrial Age to the Knowledge Age. If you are having challenges in adapting, it is likely related to this shift. Leading in the Knowledge Age requires new and innovative approaches and skills. The good news is that these approaches and skills can be applied to any organizational culture and leadership.

These trends impact all businesses – from big to small and across industries.

In her signature presentation, Jamie sheds light on these trends and gives insights on how you can respond in effective ways, so that you can increase the engagement of your teams, optimize productivity, and reach your organizational goals.

WHAT ARE THESE TRENDS?

In working with clients through leadership coaching, facilitation, consulting and creating values-based organizational culture, six trends stand out:

01

The pace of change has increased rapidly.

02

Artificial intelligence continues to evolve.

03

The workplace has gone through a restructuring.

04

Workplace stress is on the rise.

05

Millennials are the largest generation represented in the workforce today.

06

Organizations need to remain relevant to attract top talent.
